

1. Accessing through an auto-provision email?

BryteWave (RedShelf) will be provisioned to the student's academic email address. This will create an account for the student that they can log into on the BryteWave login and find the preloaded material.

The login URL for BryteWave is now located at: <https://brytewave.redshelf.com/>

While they can get in at the URL, they may have to request a password change if they don't follow the activation link that was emailed to them. So, all ACCESS provisioned students will receive an email that looks like this sample. If the student clicks the link in the email, it will pass them into their BryteWave shelf (which is the same as if they logged in at the login URL) and will be able to complete an account set up. (set password, etc.)
