

recommendations to relegate many to University-level policies, keep some at the Board level, and to rescind entirely one Board policy. Provost Agho noted that most of the academic policies already are published in the Teaching & Research Faculty Handbook and are being reviewed for revisions along with those that will remain at the Board level. Vice President Sanderlin noted that many of Human Resources policies are based on State requirements so will likely become University-level policies. She also pointed out that many of these policies are referenced in the Administrative and Professional Faculty Guidebook as well as the Teaching & Research Faculty Handbook, but are directly linked to the Board policies, so there will be a ripple effect to the revisions that will need to be made to both and any other publications that directly link to the rescinded Board policies.

With no further discussion, upon a motion made by Ms. Allmond and seconded by Mr. Corn, the following resolution was approved by roll-call vote (Ayes: Allmond, Bradley, Corn, Dickseki; Nays: None).

2022 BOARD OF VISITORS SELF-ASSESSMENT

The Chair referenced the Spring 2021 self-assessment survey responses and the suggested open-ended questions to be added to the 2022 survey: (1) In what way have you found your role on the Board stimulating or rewarding?; (2) What do you consider your primary non-financial personal contribution to the work of the Board during the past year?; (3) Please provide suggestions or comments about the survey itself; and (4) What would you like to tell us that we have not asked? The Committee agreed to add those questions in the survey.

The survey will go out to the Board in January. Donna is looking into the possibility of using the AGB OnBoard platform for the survey. Mr. Bradley suggested that a plan be in place for the Board to discuss the results of the survey each year. Last year's survey results were discussed at the end of one of the Board meetings but perhaps it could be added to the agenda for the Board's annual retreat. Ms. Dickeski pointed out that as a result of last year's survey, the two-day meeting model was suggested to give Committees more time to meet, provide opportunities to socialize, and to allow time for the Board to discuss strategic issues.

NEXT STEPS

The Chair noted that the regular process for reviewing proposed new and revised Board policies will change in that the Board's committees that deal with the specific subject matter (for example, revisions to academic policies reviewed by the Academic & Research Advancement Committee), will initially review them, but will then recommend them to the Governance Committee for review. The Governance Committee is the body that recommends them to the full Board for approval. Those policies that deal with legal issues will be reviewed by University Counsel for recommendation to the Committee.

There are several Board policies, however, that have been identified by the various SACSCOC subcommittees as needing to be reviewed as soon as possible. These policies will skip review by the subject-matter committees and be presented directly to the Governance Committee for recommendation for Board approval in April. She has asked Donna to coordinate the review of these policies with the President and his Cabinet so that they are ready to review at the February and March meetings of the Governance Committee.

President Hemphill said he will oversee the review of the University's Mission Statement as part of the strategic planning process. The Chair noted that it is anticipated that the new Mission Statement would have minimal impact on the Board's Bylaws or policies. Ms. Skaggs noted that the Mission Statement was recently reaffirmed by the Board, however, the SACSCOC reviewers asked that a more formal review by the Board be conducted and documented.

The Chair thanked everyone for their commitment to this arduous but extremely important task and the support she and the Committee receive from Amanda Skaggs and Donna Meeks.

REPORT FROM NAMING SUBCOMMITTEE

The Chair reminded the Committee that a naming policy previously drafted by Jay Wright and based on policies from other institutions is being reviewed by University Counsel and will be presented to the Governance Subcommittee for review in early 2022
